From Blooms to Print:

Grow Your Sales With Farmers Markets

Farmers markets are booming! According to the 2024 USDA Farmers Market Directory, there are now over 8,600 registered farmers markets across the US—and this number keeps growing. More markets mean more opportunities to boost your sales, connect with the community, and help vendors stand out with print essentials.

So, how can you tap into this unique niche and position your business as the go-to printer? We've compiled a list of top strategies to help you get started on your way to winning more clients and capturing market share in the growing world of farmers markets.

Know Your Audience and Build Relationships. First things first, it's important to identify your target market. Take time to research who you'll be working with and focus on building meaningful relationships. Your key connections include:

- Farmers market organizers who bring the community together. Visit the USDA Farmers Market Directory to find a market near you.
- Vendors and farmers eager to showcase their produce and products.
- Chambers of Commerce and Town Halls that can connect you with market leaders. To find your local chamber of commerce, you can use the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Directory to search for chambers in your area.
- Local agricultural associations that support local farming.

Build a Farmers Market Portfolio. To bring in new customers, you need to show them what your business is capable of! Put together a portfolio that showcases your past farmers market print projects. Include examples of stand-out signage, eye-catching flyers, branded business cards, custom labels, and packaging. Share positive stories from vendors who have used your print materials and emphasize how your high-quality services contributed to their success. A strong portfolio builds credibility and makes it easier for potential clients to see the value in working with you.

Offer a Comprehensive Range of Services. Farmers markets are bustling with vendors vying for attention. Help them stand out by offering a full suite of print solutions—from business cards and flyers to coroplast signs and banners. The best part? By outsourcing to 4over, you can provide it all without the expense or hassle of in-house production.

Become a Trusted Name. An easy way to grow your business is to become a fixture at farmers markets. Set up your own booth! Showcase your print products, engage with vendors, and connect with community members and market organizers. Offer stickers, branded labels, or small signage samples to get your work into their hands.

Highlight Eco-Friendly Print Solutions. Help vendors “go green” with sustainable print solutions! From reusable tote bags to eco-friendly stocks—like brown kraft and natural that contain 30% recycled materials—4over has the products to match their values. Offer these options and show your commitment to sustainability while helping them do the same.

Leverage Digital Marketing. Make it easy for vendors to find and order their farmers market print must-haves with a dedicated landing page on your website. Showcase print products (event tents, signs, banners, flyers, and more), specifically geared toward farmers markets making it easy for vendors to explore your products and place orders. Boost your visibility on social media by sharing tips on signage, booth branding, and more.

As farmers markets and vendors gear up for a busy season, now's your chance to connect and showcase your print expertise.

Ready to see your sales grow this season? Let a 4over expert help you today. Reach out and schedule a consultation and discover how our expertise can transform your marketing strategies into printing success.
